mass of humanity, several hundred faithful Goober followers sat in grim faithful Goober followers sat in grim silence yesterday afternoon as young Clarence Berger sped around the tow path at the Broad Street pasture, after making a circuit drive to the clubhouse in deep centre. Just in front of the hefty swatter were two gratuitous travelers, passed to first by an act of kindness. The three tallies, with another in the alastic. kindness. The three tallies, with another in the eighth frame, gave the Colts a 4 to 0 victory, and incidentally the second shut out of the day. It was indeed a Glorious Fourth—if you happened to live on the James, and owed no allegiance to the murky Apcomattox River

Never did Petersburg have as much as a peep at the game—and that counts for both contests. The morning clash resulted in a 5 to 0 win for the locals, while the second meeting came near being as sad a tale—for Petersburg. Both games were won by hearty clouts, although the hits were well scattered. Free passes, preceding the swats, brought the score up, alhough earned runs were sufficient to count, without considering the miscues of the twirlers.

The Goobers entered the afternoon game full of pep, and determined to wipe out the defent of the morning. wipe out the defeat of the morning. With them came several hundred supporters counting on seeing that Heinie Busch did the job in proper style. Said rooters added much to the din during the early stages of the game, but a dark brown silence settled over the Cockade City contingent after Berger biffed the horse hide, and the little band slowly melted, until in the ninth, scarce a handful remained to mourn soarce a handful remained to mourn the lost laurels of the day.

Heinie Busch sent in his best bets in both contests. Munford in the forenoon pitched a masterful game, and average winning ball. Kaufman heaved the pill in major style, but met his Waterloo by the one solitary long crack, which alone counted for these crack. Waterloo by the one solitary long crack, which alone counted for three markers. His passing of Gray in that inning was evidently the result of instructions, as the big boy has been waterloop way times in the series, and walked many times in the series, and lways deliberately. And it was not always deliberately. And it was not the first time that the foxey Heinie erred in his judgment during the very Sloan and Foxen were on the firing line for Richmond. The former should be given the utmost credit for his work. Under most conditions, he would have Under most conditions, he would have received credit for a no-hit game, but luck broke against him, and the hard-hearted Goober scorers were kind to the gardeners at his expense. As the records must stand, he held the petersburg sluggers to two safeties.

Besides the homer made by Ber-siger, Dolly Gray and George Rohe each is achieved the honor of tapping the pellic for two cushions. Keefe and Woerth were the others to get bingles.

Fight team is credited with a double P.

Each team is credited with a double play. As a coincidence, both occurred in the fourth round. With Lavel on second, after a long drive, Laughlin was given a free pass. Agnew attempted to sacrifice, but laced one into Foxen's hands, and Laughlin was caught off first. Petersburg duplicated the feat when Robbs were plicated the feat when Rohe was thrown out by Damrau at first, and Bunting was nabled in attempting to reach the look-in corner. Richmond scored, as has been told before, when Berger drove the ball to the club-house. The aforesaid double play had just been pulled, and J. Snyder received a gift at the hands of Kaufman. Big Dolly Gray step-ped to the platter, but four wide ones were sent to him, and he walked. Berger met the second ball pitched and it went on a straight line to cen-tre. The pellet was never more than hree feet from the ground, but nosed way to the furthermost point in

The final talley was made in the eighth, when Robe and Gray doubled and Berger singled. The last two were on the sacks when the third man was sent to the bench.

Morning Game in Detail.

Before the largest crowd that has vitnessed a ball game in Petersburg his season Richmond goose-egged heir rivals yesterday. Sloan was at their rivals yesterday. Sloan was at his best, and all that the Goobers could get off of him were two hits. He should have the credit of a no-hit game, as Berger made a splendid ef-fort to catch Laval's fly to left field, and but for the fact that he was sprinting some, and could not steady himself, he would have caught it. The other hit was straight at Sloan, and was made by Agnew in the third in-ning. Sloan knocked the ball down, but it was a twister, and rolled away from him, and Agnew was safe at first. Richmond made a run in the first by a base on balls, a single and a fielder's choice. For the next six innings the batters were retired almost as fast as they came to the plate. In the eighth Bunting fouled out. Laval muffed Rohe's fly to center. W. (Continued on Second Page.)

in Finals of Henley Regatta, but Failed to Win.

ITALIAN WINS SCULLS EVENT BISONS SPLIT WITH BROOKLYN

Foreign Invasion and Victories Cast Gloom Over English Sportsmen, While American Colony Is Jubilant Over Victories of Americans.

London, July 4.- This has been very much an American day in London. Apart from the celebration of the Fourth of July, Americans in various branches of sport have been making the day memorable at England's expense. For example, this year's Henley at-ways will be regarded as a very sad day for the "tight little island."

Never in the history of the event can anything be remembered to equal the success of the foreign invasion which started Thursday and ended to-day.

For the first time since the inception of the regatta not a single English crew competed in the finals for the grand challenge cup, the most coveted prize in the world for eight-oared crews, and, worst of all, two American crews, the Harvard and Boston eights had the finals to themselves. Harvard's victory naturally did not arouse much enthusiasm except among the Americans, although the struggle was an interesting one.

The Bostonians got away in the lead, and were half a length in front at the quarter-mile, where Harvard spurted. At the half-mile the shells were even and at the three-quarter Harvard was a third of a length in the lead, and increased this to three-quarters at the mile. From there to the finish the Crimson crew increased their lead, and crossed the line one and one-quarter lengths in advance of the Bostonians. day for the "tight little island."

Washington, July 4.—Washington and Boston broke even to-day, the Senators taking the second game, 3 to 2, after dropping the morning contest, 1 to 0. Both games were pitchers' battles, and both were lost through infield errors.

Collins and Engle hooked up in the first game and Speaker crossed the plate with the only run in the fourth, when Morgan foozled an easy chance. C. C. A. SPENDS BIG FOURTH AT HIGHLAND SPRINGS

A team from the Church Civic Association League Journeyed to Highland Springs yesterday, and, betwen the various amusements offered, managed to win two games of ball from the village team. The morning game was won by a score of 13 to 3. Timely hitting and the application of "inside" baseball won this encounter. Beadles and Austin were the battery for Highland Springs; Nevins, Watts and Evans for C. C. A. The batting of Gentry and Evans featured.

The second contest resulted in a 16 to 5 victory for the Church Hill boys. Harper's hitting practically won the game. He drove in five tallies with a home run, triple and single, and scored two runs himself. "Toots" Redford twirled for the winners. England allowed five runs in three innings, and was replaced by Nevins and Watts, who kept their opponents guessing. Frank August caught a fine game for the losers.

Large crowds witnessed both games.

A plenic was held near the ball grounds, and everybody enjoyed a good time.

Through the kindness of Manager Mann, of Highland Springs, the C. C. A. players were given a sumptuous "feed."

In a fifty-horsenower Schmidt monoplane, he covered the distance from Governor's Island to Spaytenduyvil and back, with a loop in the direction of Sea Gate, in forty-three minutes twenty-six and one-fifth seconds. Albert S. Heinrich, in one of his own fifty-horsepower monoplanes, was Kantner's only contender. He covered the course in three minutes twenty and three-fifth seconds slower time than Kantner.
